CRAWFORD CO. CRASH KILLS MAN, INJURES 2

Loudonville Resident Dies as Car Skids from Road, Hits Tree.

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, Feb. 6—A Loudonville man was killed and two others seriously injured about 11 a. m. today when the car in which they were riding skidded off the highway and struck a tree on Route 30-N, three miles west of Bucyrus.

The dead man, Kenneth McGuire, 23, was killed almost instantly, the attending physician reported. Elmer Wachtel, 22, was reported in serious condition by attendants at Bucyrus City hospital this afternoon, while Maxwell Hoover, 29, driver of the car, is less seriously hurt, it was reported. Wachtel and Hoover both are from Loudonville.

Hoover, a restaurant owner, told hospital attendants he and his companions were enroute to Chicago. The group was taken to the hospital by passing motorists. McGuire was pronounced dead upon arrival there.

Hospital attendants reported McGuire's injuries included a severe skull fracture, chest injuries and possibly a broken neck, while Wachtel suffered severe shock, a fractured pelvis and at least five fractured ribs. Hoover suffered severe injuries to the left side.

State Patrolman T. B. Morgan of Marion who is investigating the accident said the car, a heavy 1936 sedan, apparently skidded several yards across the highway, left the road and struck a tree approximately 50 feet from the highway. The tree was the only obstruction within a distance of more than 500 yards, Patrolman Morgan said.

Early this afternoon Hoover's condition was too serious to permit questioning about the accident and Patrolman Morgan said that he was able to find nothing at the scene of the accident that might explain how the mishap occurred. The car was demolished.

MOTT SETS UP TRUST FOR WIFE, CHILDREN

Large General Motors Stockholder Gives Five Millions.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6—Charles Stewart Mott, vice president and largest single stockholder of General Motors Corp., has given shares valued at more than $5,000,000 to a trust established for his wife and two children.

A securities commission report today disclosed the gift, regarded as one of the largest in recent years. The motor executive was shown by th ereport to be still the owner of stock valued at more than $23,000,000.

The gift consisted of 100,000 shares of General Motors common which closed on the New York stock exchange yesterday at $52.50. The stock was placed in an irrevocable trust for Mrs. Ruth Rawlings Mott and their children, Susan E. and Stewart Rawlings Mott. Mott will be trustee under an agreement dated Dec. 5.

Mott's gift highlighted a long list of December transactions by corporation officers, directors and principal owners made public by the securities commission.

Among other major transactions was the receipt by Alleghany Corp. of Cleveland of 766,800 shares of Chesapeake & Ohio railway common stock as a dividend paid by Chesapeake Corp. It brought Alleghany's total holdings to 1,-739,200 shares.

And Mr. Farmer, if you are in the market for some No. 1 red clover seed or Swedish seed oats, the advertiser under Classification 56 has plenty of these for sale. He also has some bred registered Hampshire gilts.

DRIVER UNHURT AS TRUCK OVERTURNS

Upset Occurs on Road Near Delaware.

F. W. Knestrick of Cleveland escaped uninjured when the transport truck he was driving overturned three miles north of Delaware on Route 23 about 8 a. m. today.

Mr. Knestrick told State Patrolmen W. C. Corder and B. P. Hughes, who investigated, that the truck skidded and "jackknifed" when he slowed down to stop for a Delaware school bus. The truck, consisting of a tractor and two trailers, overturned on a wide berm at the side of the road, the patrolmen reported. It had not been righted at noon today.

The officers reported that the truck was not extensively damaged and that probably only minor damage resulted to 13 tons of general merchandise with which the truck was loaded.

GRAND JURY CALLED IN MURDER CASE

Prosecutor To Ask First Degree Indictment.

By The Associated Press

WEST UNION, O., Feb. 6—An Adams county grand jury was called today to consider the case of Darwin Edgington, 26, who confessed the robbery-murder of Mr. and Mrs. Craven Grooms in their one-room home here.

Prosecutor J. H. Lang said he would ask Edgington's indictment on a charge of first degree murder to which he pleaded guilty Sunday before Magistrate W. H. Young.

Edgington claimed in a confession that he shot Grooms, 33, and his wife, Gwendolyn, 38, obtained about $100 and then set fire to the place "just as an afterthought" to conceal his crime, according to Lang.

Edgington, a laborer who had not been working, was taken into custody for questioning because of his "liberal spending."

Deputy Sheriff Grimes Morgan said Edgington admitted two other robberies in which he implicated another youth.

STONING SKIRMISH MARKS GAS STRIKE

Police on Duty at Toledo After Outbreak.

By The Associated Press

TOLEDO, O., Feb. 6 — Toledo city officials stationed strike-seasoned police at an Ohio Fuel Gas Co. plant today after a stone skirmish between armed guards and striking workers.

Safety Director Edward A. De Angelo described feeling as very "tense." He ordered provoking shotguns put away and instructed patrolmen to prevent a recurrence of the midnight outbreak—first in the six-day labor dispute.

Appearance of about 10 shotgun-bearing guards at the firm's West Central avenue plant, in the heart of the industrial district, precipitated the stoning. They took their stations — three in a tower high within the fenced plant—about dusk. The pickets grew in number from a dozen to 300 until, in a flare of tempers, the stoning began.

Police reserves quickly dispersed the throng as the guards ducked to cover without injury. There were no arrests.

De Angelo feared failure to reach an accord today might bring more "trouble," the plant continuing in operation with workmen brought in from company units in other cities. However, a federal labor conciliator, David T. Roadley of Cleveland, predicted today's scheduled conference between the company and C.I.O. union officials would effect a settlement.

POSTAL RECEIPTS UP

The Marion post office started the new year with January receipts amounting to $13,907.81, a gain of 8.84 per cent over the corresponding month last year. Receipts for January 1939 totaled $11,953.69. The gain amounted to $1,093.82.

THIRD TERMERS WIN SKIRMISH

Choice of Chicago Seen as Victory for Roosevelt Over Garner Forces.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6 — The scrap for the Democratic presidential nomination was on in earnest today after the party's national committee picked Chicago for the nominating convention and authorized Chairman James A. Farley to fix the date.

Third term advocates hailed the choice—by a single majority vote—as an initial victory for President Roosevelt, who favored Chicago, over the forces of Vice President Garner, who is believed to have preferred San Francisco or Houston.

The Chief Executive, described by party leaders as wanting to have an important part in picking the nominee if he does not run himself, told reporters at Hyde Park, N. Y., while the national committee was in session here yesterday that he was getting tired of answering third term queries.

He added that when anything was to be said about the questioning, he would say it himself—at a time of his own choosing.

Charles Sawyer, committeeman from Ohio, told reporters that the President "by all odds is the most popular candidate in Ohio." He added, however, that he did not believe Mr. Roosevelt should commit himself now "if he doesn't want to."

Other third term advocates contended that Chicago's selection as the convention city played right into their hands, since they said that the "center of the draft Roosevelt" campaign was represented there by Mayor Edward J. Kelly and National Committeeman Pat Nash. These two men have filed petitions preparatory to placing Mr. Roosevelt's name in the Illinois primary April 9.

The unprecedented action of the committee in leaving to Farley the selection of a convention date was to give the Democrats a chance to hold their meeting after the Republicans, who will choose their time and place Feb. 16.

Farley, observing that "we may as well wait to see the opposition candidate and platform," told reporters the Democrats probably would meet a week or two after the Republican convention.

YOUNGEST DONAHEY DAUGHTER TO WED

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6—Marion Edith Donahey, 23, youngest of Senator and Mrs. Vic Donahey's 10 children, will be a June bride.

Her parents announced yesterday her engagement to John Christian Isham, naval academy graduate now assigned to the USS Astoria at Pearl Harbor, Hawaii. He is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Isham of Redlands, Calif.

The couple expects to be married June 1, probably in Hawaii.

BRITAIN REPORTS LOSS OF 14 SHIPS

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Feb. 6 — The admiralty announced today that eight British ships totalling 25,-628 tons and six neutral vessels of 17,846 tons, were sunk by enemy action during the week ended at midnight Sunday.

The announcement termed this number "particularly good for a particularly bad week."

DONAHEY WON'T TAKE STAND IN OHIO ROW

Senator Urges Peace Rally But Keeps Silent on "Favorite Son" Plans.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6—Senator Donahey, Democrat of Ohio, remaining silent on whether he would be a "favorite son" candidate for president, declared today that the Ohio Democratic committee should call a conference of district committeemen in an effort to "promote harmony" in the party.

Donahey's statement, prepared for a luncheon meeting of Ohio Democratic leaders, appeared to leave the question of his candidacy wide open.

Donahey's statement:

"With relation to the selection of delegates to the national Democratic convention, there is just one official procedure to follow:

"The chairman of the state central committee should call all of the Democratic state district central committeemen and committeewomen to meet at Columbus, Ohio, and collectively adopt a policy to be followed that will be workable and promote harmony. The rank and file Democrats of Ohio expect their official representatives to meet their responsibility."

Donahey Won't Dictate

In some informed quarters, reports were that the senator had suggested the conference in order to avoid any appearance of seeking to dictate to Ohio Democrats. A flat declaration of candidacy might have been interpreted as an effort to dictate party policy, these persons said.

Donahey presumably will make up his mind on whether to run in Ohio if—and after—the suggested conference is held. To enter Ohio's May primary, he must file a declaration of his intention to stand for the Democratic presidential nomination by March 15.

Vice President Garner's friends have indicated that he would enter the Ohio primary in the event Donahey did not run, and associates of Senator Wheeler, Democrat of Montana, have reported that he was considering entering the race if his Ohio colleague was not a candidate.

Charles Sawyer, Ohio national committeeman, conferred with Donahey early this week, and reports spread that he, together with Ohio State Chairman Arthur Limbach, had urged the senator to declare his intentions in the Ohio situation.

Sawyer Might Stand

If Donahey declined to enter the primaries, it was said, then Sawyer might stand as a favorite son candidate pledged to a third term for President Roosevelt.

Sawyer said he, Mrs. Mildred Jaster, national committee member, and Arthur Limbach, state chairman, expected to return to Columbus tomorrow with full information on the attitude of the house group on what should be done to assure harmony before and after the state primary election.

The house Democrats accepted an invitation of Sawyer to discuss the situation at a luncheon in the capital.

"We want a clarification of all views," said Sawyer. "The desires and suggestions of all groups will be considered."

The house delegation had luncheon last week with Walter Heer, Franklin county Democratic chairman, who asked Senator Donahey, Democrat of Ohio, to recommend replacement of Sawyer and Limbach for inactivity.

Donahey, who talked yesterday with Sawyer and Limbach, expected to issue today a statement, presumably about state politics.

CLERK ELECTED BY CITY SCHOOL BOARD

Farm Office Here Closed by Delayed Appointment

Future of County Agent Situation Uncertain After O. S. U. Trustees Defer Approval of H. S. Porteus.

The office of the Marion county farm agent has been closed, temporarily at least, because of what state extension officials said was unprecedented delay in approval of their appointment of Homer S. Porteus of Delaware as the new agent.

Mr. Porteus, agent for Delaware county, was recommended for the Marion county portion to succeed the late S. L. Anderson following a meeting of state extension officials and a local committee. The recommendation was placed before the trustees of Ohio State university who have the final say in such appointments, at their meeting early in January but the trustees deferred action.

Dr. H. C. Ramsower, state extension director, and O. C. Croy, supervisor of extension work for northeastern Ohio, both told The Star in telephone interviews at their offices in Columbus that it was the first time in their experience that the trustees failed to approve immediately a recommendation of the extension service and local residents.

Inquiry among persons interested in the situation revealed that several people believe "politics" has entered the matter.

Denial by Altmaier

Dr. C. J. Altmaier of Marion, a member of the board of trustees of the university, told about the report by The Star, denied that there is any political angle to the delay in approval of Mr. Porteus.

He said he understands there were originally several persons seeking the position, but that as far as he is concerned any qualified candidate would be acceptable.

Dr. Altmaier was asked if he had requested the trustees to defer approval of Mr. Porteus and he replied that the approval was deferred at the request of the board.

He was asked if there was any discussion at the January meeting of the trustees to indicate why the trustees deferred action and he said:

Gives Reason

"It happens that sometimes there is probably not enough information given to the board to go on and a little more investigation is needed."

Dr. Altmaier also said that the board frequently defers action on recommendations for appointments, pending further investigation.

Dr. Ramsower and Mr. Croy said that the only information they have concerning the trustees' reasons for deferring action is that "further investigation" was deemed advisable by some board members.

Meanwhile, both the state extension office and the local committee, which is headed by Dr. C. P. Harper of Green Camp township, are merely marking time until the next meeting of the university trustees on Monday.

What the trustees will do Monday is uncertain. Dr. Altmaier said he does not know whether there will be definite action, either in approving or rejecting Mr. Porteus.

Possible Procedure

Mr. Croy, contacted at his Columbus office yesterday, was asked whether, in view of the federal-state-county setup, the university trustees could select an agent other than one recommended by the extension service. He replied that he did not know the answer.

He was also unable to say definitely how soon the county agent's office here will be reopened. It was closed last week after a conference between him and Miss Florence Almendinger of near Prospect, office secretary, who has been in charge since the death of Mr. Anderson late last year. He said it was agreed Miss Almendinger should go on a vacation, at least until the university trustees meet again. Her pay will continue, he said. Meanwhile, the county agent work is being handled through the AAA committee office at 220 East Church street.

Office Program Uncertain

Mr. Croy said he does not know if the county agent's office, located in the post office basement, will be opened if the trustees fail to approve Mr. Porteus Monday.

If the trustees do fail to approve Mr. Porteus, the state extension service will again contact the Marion county committee and ask a new candidate acceptable to both the extension service and the county. The committee is composed of 18 farm leaders, representing various interests.

R. D. LUKE NAMED HEAD OF HOBBY CLUB

Plans Made for Observance of "Coin Week."

Election of officers, plans for a local observance of "National Coin Week," and arrangements for a public meeting late this month were highlights of Monday night's business session of the Marion Hobby Club.

Russell D. Luke was elected president, succeeding Robert W. Brown. Other officers, to take over their duties March 1, are Lyle Kaufman, first vice president, Elmer Shaw, second vice president, Clyde Burnside, secretary and Tom Jevas, treasurer.

An executive committee, headed by Dr. F. A. Stengel as permanent chairman was named. The committee is composed of the retiring president, Mr. Brown, elected executive officers and W. D. Scranton and Earl N. Hale.

Dr. Stengel, Mr. Hale and Terry Conner were named on a committee to complete plans for the observance of "coin week" March 30 to April 6. It is planned to display coin collections in windows of uptown business places.

It was announced that arrangements are under way for a public meeting at which Anthony Maresh, Cleveland music dealer and an authority on Abraham Lincoln, will speak. The session, to be open to the public, will be held at the Y. M. C. A. Feb. 26. Mr. Maresh, president of the Ohio Lincoln association, will display items from his collection in connection with the martyred president.

A buffet lunch was served at the close of the meeting.

Why Envy a Steak When Eating Spinach?

Here is good news for many who suffer stomach or ulcer pains due to excess acid. It has been found that bismuth coats the stomach lining on the sensitive parts, thus preventing the irritating action of digestive secretions and foods. It enables many to eat hard-to-digest foods, such as steaks and corn beef and cabbage without after-irritation. Udga Tablets contain bismuth and other valuable ingredients in a balanced formula. They have been praised by thousands. Try a 25c box of Udga for relief of ulcer and stomach pains, indigestion, gas pains, heartburn, burning sensation, bloat and other conditions caused by excess acid. Udga Tablets are safe to use and must help or money refunded. At good drug stores everywhere.—Adv.

Torrance Named School Board Clerk

sort of up against it with the relief measure going down."

Dr. Morgan suggested that Mayor Snare be "more specific" about what he wants the board to do and said that for himself he would like to know more about the situation before taking action. Mr. Hudson brought up the point of finding out whether the board legally can spend the school's money for such purposes.

Seeks 2-Year Agreement

In the other letter the mayor asked that the board give the city the assurance of at least two years tenency of the now abandoned North State Street school and a 90-day notice period if the board should again decide to use the building.

The mayor pointed out that it will require $2,000 to get the building in shape for use as a relief center and that the city does not want to make this expenditure and at the end of a year be told to vacate.

At the January meeting the board took action to give the city use of the building for a year and yesterday Mr. Robinson made a motion that the matter rest "as settled at the last meeting."

Mr. Robinson and Dr. Morgan voted yes, Mr. Barnhart and Dr. Thomas voted no and Mr. Torrance did not vote. "As it stands, the way it is here, they're (the city) taking the chance and if we go ahead and give them this contract (two years) then we take the chance," was Mr. Torrance's statement.

Mr. Barnhart explained that in his opinion if the matter were left unsettled the city would go about its relief work at the building in a half-hearted way, "not knowing whether they're going to be there long enough to make a relief center out of it."

In voting no Dr. Thomas said, "I still think relief is important."

"I thought in view of the way relief is needed in the city and the fact the board has several vacant buildings, we ought to do everything we can to help the relief situation," Mr. Barnhart said.

Mr. Robinson said: "Let them have it a year or longer, until we request their vacating it. That's leaving it wide open. If we need it we have it. If we don't they have it. I appreciate that relief is important but of course education is too."

Urges Conference

At this point Mr. Torrance suggested that the mayor be called in to talk to the board again and Mr. Barnhart agreed that the mayor at the same time could discuss his proposition regarding the city health nurse maintenance.

The board voted Mr. Huffman $500 to buy new musical instruments following his report that due to the growth in the field of instrumental instruction, he felt the need for addition instruments, including Sousaphone, cello, bassoon, oboe, bass and also cornets and chimes.

Mr. Hudson pointed out there are now 446 different pupils taking instrumental music instruction in the schools and that the board now owns approximately 35 different instruments.

Bills totaling $3,482.00 were ordered paid.

The board hired Miss Ruth Turner, graduate of Harding High school and Capital university, to be fourth grade teacher at the Oakland Heights school. She will fill the vacancy left by the death of Miss Aileen Morral. Mrs. Dorothy Strawser Klehm has been serving as substitute teacher. Miss Turner is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Turner of 381 Hane avenue.

The board, following an annual custom, voted to pay the expenses of Superintendent Hudson to the annual week's convention of the American Association of Education Administrators in St. Louis, Mo., the last of this month. He asked to leave on Feb. 23.

To Meet with Teachers

It also was voted to pay Prof. Guy M. Wilson of Boston university to stop in Marion on his way to the St. Louis convention for conferences with teachers on arithmetic in the schools.

Mr. Hudson said educators are finding weaknesses with arithmetic among pupils and that he felt the conferences with Professor Wilson would be invaluable to the teachers.

Mr. Hudson announced the state department of health has asked the city schools to cooperate in a survey to determine causes of bad teeth among school children. He said the survey will be made in three junior high schools, and will be at no cost to the city or the board.

The board approved the Marion County bank's taking up of $25,000 in Consolidated Federal Farm Loan bonds for $25,000 U. S. government bonds, and the transfer of $49,013.75 from the bond retirement fund to the National City Bank & Trust Co., to meet bonds due March 1. Mr. Barnhart signed a proxy for the board to be voted at a meeting of the Home Building, Savings & Loan Co. on Feb. 21. The board's money in the company is funds that belong to the board for the vocational department, given to the board by court action a year ago.

A change in tuition fees was made, a slight increase, making the monthly charge $9.50 for elementary pupils, $10.80 for junior high and $13.35 for senior high. In a previous calculation of the tuition fees the cost of the board's contribution to the teacher retirement system, which should have been included, was not included, Mr. Hudson told the board.

To Take Bids

The board moved to take bids for new blinds for the Forest Lawn building, and took under advisement a request for new plumbing at the building. C. L. Ulrich and S. S. Nussbaum, members of the Forest Lawn Parent-Teacher association, visited the meeting for a short time and spoke for the improvements. The board assured them the matters would be given consideration. It was pointed out that the plumbing repairs can not be made until summer.

A written report of the work of Cecil Gabler, visiting teacher, was submitted to the board with a note from Mr. Hudson to the effect that he believes "the work of the visiting teacher grows more pronounced as times goes on."

According to the report, in the first half of the present school year Mr. Gabler made 782 visits to 462 homes, held 94 conferences with school principals, 28 with city authorities, 88 with pupils in schools, 32 with teachers, and 20 with the city health nurse, furnished eight household aides, filed 10 complaints, issue 39 working certificates, obtained seven state dismissals for retarded pupils, gave five absence excuses, and bought 81 pairs of shoes and galoshes. According to his report a balance of $60.42 remains in the shoe fund.

Blood Runs Cold

By Ann Demarest

YESTERDAY: Christine is surprised to learn that Lathrop, the man the police are trying to find, is married. Kincaid is interviewed and says that he loved Joan and that Richard MacDonald threatened to kill him.

CHAPTER 19

"I Loved Her"

I LOOKED around. The room made a queer confused picture; Richard, so pale and thin and tall, standing beside his uncle at the desk, and Mr. Kimball himself, very white, his bewildered blue eyes on the slumped figure of Harry Kincaid. Ishi, who had come in from a room in the back of the house was leaning against the door easing. There was something disturbing in his gaze and the faint smile that curved the corners of his mouth.

Before them stood the Sergeant, silent and motionless. His eyes were on the floor. He seemed to be reflecting.

"You'll have to prove it," he said finally in a tired voice. "You're the only person so far who has refused to account for his actions."

The Sergeant, I thought, was stretching a point, but undoubtedly he had his own system.

Harry Kincaid raised his head. "I was here last night," he said, and the color crept back into his pale face. "I'll admit that, but I didn't murder Joan. I didn't even see her."

The Sergeant pulled his chair to the window and sat down. "What were you doing here, then?"

"I'd been to a show with a fellow and on my way home I stopped off here and thought I'd try to see Joan for a minute." He looked at the Sergeant almost apologetically. "She worked until 10, so she usually stayed up pretty late. I came upstairs and then I thought I heard some one coming in the street door. I thought it was him." He indicated Richard with an ugly look in his eyes. "There was no use getting in a fight, I thought, so I ducked into my old apartment. Didn't know it had been rented. Then she let out a screech." He glanced at me.

"Well," the man went on, "I had to go out in the hall again, but there was no one around. I knocked at Joan's door. She did not answer. I stooped down and looked under the crack. There wasn't any light and the window was open. I could feel the draft coming from under the door. I thought she was in bed. I left then. I tell you, I had nothing to do with her murder."

The Sergeant's gaze swept the room, then he turned back to Kincaid. "Did you see any one while you were in the house?"

"I didn't see who it was that came upstairs."

"When you left."

He nodded. "I thought I passed the Rogers girl, but I couldn't swear to it. Anyway, it was a woman. She was coming in the house."

"Was there a light in the second-floor hall while you were there?"

"No, only on the third floor." He scratched his head. "I don't see how any one could have seen me when I went into her room." He looked at me again.

The Sergeant rubbed his chin thoughtfully. "Mrs. Evans must be psychic," he said.

Dirck raised his eyebrows and looked at me with such an amused expression that I could not help smiling. Had Mrs. Evans' husband told her, I wondered, or could she see in the dark?

"Devoted to My Work"

"And you saw no one else?"

"When I passed the shop I saw Mr. Kimball looking over some books in the front window." He pointed to the shelves.

The Sergeant swung around to Mr. Kimball. "Do you usually decorate your windows after midnight?"

The older man's face lighted. "I stay in the shop almost every night until 12 or after. I am devoted to my work."

"I see," the Sergeant said shortly.

But I thought he didn't understand. Mr. Kimball's scholarly regard for his books and his possessions would never penetrate the Sergeant's consciousness.

He turned back to Harry Kincaid. "Did you drop the cigaret lighter when you ran into Miss Howarth's apartment?"

Kincaid flushed and admitted that he must have dropped it somewhere in the house because when he got home he couldn't find it.

"Did you come back and take it from her room today?" The Sergeant went on tirelessly.

"No."

"Did you call Joan Kent this morning?"

The man stared at him without speaking.

"Answer me!"

He nodded dully.

The Sergeant's eyes narrowed. "And why didn't you tell Miss Howarth who was calling?"

A defiant look crept over Harry Kincaid's face. I imagined by this time he was getting pretty tired of hearing my name.

"Not because I was afraid to tell her. I wasn't trying to keep my name a secret. You don't believe that, I guess, but it was an awful shock." Then he added simply, "I loved her, you see."

For a moment I admired the man. He wasn't a particularly pleasant person, but he was entirely sincere in his affection for the girl. He went on in a hopeless voice:

"There wasn't anything I could do this morning, so I didn't come around. I knew I wouldn't be welcome here."

Even Richard, who had been regarding him with a hostile eye, was moved by this admission and Mr. Kimball raised his white head and eyed him pityingly.

"Where did you call from?" the Sergeant asked.

From a drug store in Times Square, Harry Kincaid told him. So the Sergeant slapped his notebook down on the desk and told him he could go if he would first leave his office address. Harry Kincaid got up, took a card from his wallet and handed it to the Sergeant.

"That will be all." The Sergeant seated himself in Mr. Kimball's chair at the desk.

Without a word or a backward glance the man walked quietly past us and out of the shop.

Dirck turned to look after him, then quickly bent his head close to mine. "We're going out," he said in a low voice. "When I speak to the Sergeant, put on your hat and coat. And fast, too."

Shadowy Forms

I looked at him incredulously, but before I could protest he got up and walked to the desk.

"We're going out for a few minutes, Sergeant, for some cigarettes."

The Sergeant didn't even raise his eyes from his notebook. "Go ahead," he said.

Dirck came back to me. "You'd better put on your gloves," he said casually as I slipped into my coat. "It's pretty cold."

I walked out of the shop with him, feeling very self-conscious. It seemed to me that Mr. Kimball and Richard were watching us curiously. What in the world did Dirck want to go out for? I knew it wasn't cigarettes, because there was a carton and a half in my room and his pockets were full.

The street was dark except for the faint glow of light from the corner. It was windy, too, and much colder. Mr. Norton had disappeared and there was no one watching the house. Dirck put his hand on my arm and, keeping close to the buildings, we hurried to the corner. He was bending forward and seemed to be looking for something down the street. And there on the corner under the street light I saw the shadowy forms of two people. A man and a woman.

It was Harry Kincaid, and the girl was Adrianne Wells.

They both looked up, startled, as Dirck spoke to them briefly and we walked into the Knife and Fork.

"Now then," he said quietly. "Get a carton of cigarettes while I make a call."

While I spoke to the man behind the counter Dirck hurried to the telephone, dialled rapidly and waited, tapping his foot with impatience. When he finally spoke, his voice was so low I couldn't distinguish the words. His face was grave as he came back and paid the man for the cigarettes. Then he glanced out of the window. "We'd better wait a moment," he said.

I rested against the counter while he went outside and looked around. Finally he signalled me.

"I thought the Sergeant would be interested, so I called him," he said as I came out of the door. "When Kincaid left the shop Adrianne Wells was going up the steps to the front door. I saw her take him by the arm and I was certain we'd find them somewhere down the street."

He took my arm and we walked slowly back to the shop. "Chris, I don't want you to be frightened," he said, "but there is something wrong about this house. I don't know what it is. But be careful, will you? I hate having you alone in that apartment. Joan Kent was murdered, and—" He hesitated.

I stood still and stared at him. "What do you mean?" I gasped. "No one will bother me. There is no reason for it."

"I don't know. I'm sure I hope not," he murmured.

I clutched his arm. "Why, Dirck, what makes you say this?"

"Listen, darling," he said. "You were too close to this to be healthy. Last night you were out in the hall and at the same time there was someone on the stairway." He hesitated and then added emphatically, "If that person was the murderer, he may think you saw him."

"Oh!" I shivered.

He drew me along beside him. "We'll go into the shop now," he said. "I'll try to fix things up later." Then he added sharply, "I don't want you to be alone tonight."

When we walked into the shop, Adrianne Wells and Mr. Kincaid were standing beside the desk and the Sergeant was leaning back in the chair looking up at them intently. Richard and his uncle were sitting close by and Ishi was nowhere in sight. Dirck took my coat and we sat down on a low bench along the wall close to the open fire.

Mary Tells Noel How Olina's Role Will Benefit Them

AS MARY released her young husband from the hug she had given him, I understood why his statement had given her such happiness.

Her husband was championing her, putting her comfort and ease before that of the girl who, both of them knew, was trying to supplant Mary in Noel's life. And he was speaking of Olina in such terms as to allay any possible doubts in his wife's mind that the girl had ever occupied even a tiny place in his imagination.

Any wife knows that such knowledge is the greatest incentive possible to generosity in dealing with the other woman in the case, and I was not in the least surprised to hear her tell her husband to listen while she told him why she approved of "this stunt."

"In the first place, darling," she said, "strange as it may seem, having a beautiful girl play a harp, just there is going to improve the scene, and she'll have so few words to speak that she couldn't possibly harm the effect, especially after Auntie Madge has drilled her, even if she were dramatically bad, and I have an idea she'll be good.

"In the second place," she went on, ticking her points off on her fingers, "it'll keep her out of mischief. She won't have time or opportunity to bedevil you and me the way she has been doing.

"Thirdly," she clicked off another point, "it will please your father immensely, and anything that pleases him or puts him in a mellow mood is greatly to be desired at this juncture. Maybe it will soften him so much that he'll forbear to say 'Off with her head!' tomorrow."

"Mary!" Noel exclaimed, distressed, "If he dares!"

"Please!" I interrupted hastily. "Let me give you some time-honored, if slightly shopworn, advice. 'Don't cross any bridges until you come to them'."

"We'll just remember that," Mary said brightly. "Now, Noel, darling, I'm going to shoo you out for a while until I get this through my noodle. Go and take a walk or sit on the veranda and smoke, or do anything else your little heart desires. You'd better prepare for quite a long session, for, if I understand the situation after we're both letter perfect in our lines, Aunt Madge wants to rehearse us until we can pass muster with your father, and he'll be back—when?"

"A half hour after I telephone him that the harps for Olina have arrived."

"The harps!" Noel repeated, puzzled, and I explained his father's munificent gesture.

"He's getting a bit fatuous, isn't he?" Noel asked with a distinct unfilial note in his voice, but his wife's laugh held no approval.

"You're getting too much bile in your system," she said. "Try to walk it off before you come in again."

Noel rose and, coming over to her, took her by the shoulders and gave her a slight shake before kissing her.

"Don't you get fresh" he warned her, with a laugh that belied his words, and went out of the door, closing it after him.

"Exit Noel, laughing," Mary commented, looking after him thoughtfully. "Well! that's a good sign, don't you think, Auntie Madge?"

"Decidedly," I said with sincerity. "And now, I'll leave you with these lines. Let me explain them to you."

The explanation took but a minute, but as I turned to go Mary stopped me.

"Just one question," she said, and paused uncertainly.

"A dozen if you like," I said, smiling at her.

"No, just one will do. I suppose you want these lines in the same stilted style my papa-in-law drilled into my head, don't you?"

How to Make a Splendid Cough Remedy at Home

A Big Saving, and It's So Easy! No Cooking!

Cough medicines usually contain a large quantity of sugar syrup—a good ingredient, but one which you can easily make at home. Take 2 cups of granulated sugar and 1 cup of water, and stir a few moments until dissolved. No cooking! No trouble at all.

Then get from your druggist 2½ ounces of Pinex, pour it into a pint bottle, and add your syrup. This gives you a full pint of truly wonderful medicine for coughs due to colds. It makes a real saving for you, because it gives you about four times as much for your money. It lasts a long time, never spoils, and children love it.

This is actually a surprisingly effective, quick-acting cough remedy. Promptly, you feel it taking hold. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes and makes breathing easy. You've never seen anything better for prompt and pleasing results.

Pinex is a compound containing Norway Pine and palatable guaiacol, in concentrated form, a most reliable soothing agent for throat and bronchial membranes. Money refunded if it doesn't please you in every way.

79 New Cars Sold Last Month, Gain Over Year Ago

Sales of new and used automobiles in Marion city and county during January dropped below marks of the preceding month, but still were well ahead of the corresponding period last year, according to records announced from the office of the Retail Merchants Bureau at 142½ East Center street.

Seventy-nine new passenger cars were sold last month, 19 less than the 98 sold in December, but 14 more than in January, 1939. Used car sales in January totaled 182, within 16 of the 198 listed for December and 24 more than the 158 sold in the same month last year.

The twelve new truck sales in January exceeded the December record by seven and was four above January sales of a year ago.

There were 730 certificates of title issues in the office of Clerk of Courts Carl F. Haberman, according to the report of Miss Alma Fetter, deputy in charge of the title division. The total was 96 less than the 828 issued in December and 23 less than the 753 issued in January, 1939.

The Pleasant Way to Correct Constipation

Why let yourself in for all the discomfort of constipation—and then have to take an emergency medicine—if you can avoid both by getting at the cause of the trouble?

If your difficulty, like that of millions, is due to lack of "bulk" in the diet, the "better way" is to eat Kellogg's All-Bran. This crunchy toasted cereal—a natural food, not a medicine—has just the "bulk" you need. If you eat it every day, it will help you not only to get regular but to keep regular, month after month, by the pleasantest means you ever knew!

Eat All-Bran often, drink plenty of water, and "Join the Regulars." Made by Kellogg's in Battle Creek. Sold by every grocer. If your condition is chronic, it is wise to consult a physician.

Former Marion Co. Man's Rubber Tree Botanical Oddity

A botanical oddity on the property of Eugene U. Briggs of Corona Del Mar, Orange County, Calif., a former resident of Marion county, is the object of a great deal of interest and discussion.

The "oddity" is a rubber tree which measures nearly 10 inches in diameter to a height of almost three feet above the ground where a circle of six limbs grow from the main trunk.

When the tree was small the main trunk was nearly the same size above the circle of small limbs, but now it is only about three inches in diameter and 10 feet tall.

About five years ago the six limbs were each as large as the center above the circle. The center then started roots from above the limbs and these dropped down between the six limbs on all sides of the lower trunk and rooted into the ground. Several of the roots are from 1½ to three inches in diameter and are providing nourishment to the center trunk above the circle of six limbs.

Mr. Briggs formerly operated a farm in Marion county.

Your Income Tax

NORMAL TAX AND SURTAX RATES

The Internal Revenue Code provides for only one normal tax rate, that is, 4 per cent of the amount of the net income in excess of the allowable credits such as the personal exemption, credit for dependents, etc. The law provides for an additional credit for the purpose of the normal tax of an earned income credit, that is, 10 per cent of the amount of the earned net income but not in excess of 10 per cent of the amount of the net income. The personal exemption and credit for dependents are also allowable as credits against the net income for the purpose of the surtax, the resulting net income being designated "surtax net income." The surtax is imposed on surtax net incomes in excess of $4,000. The rates increase in accordance with the amount of surtax net income included in varying so-called surtax brackets. On a surtax net income of $4,000 or less there is no surtax. On a surtax net income in excess of $4,000 and not in excess of $6,000, the rate is 4 per cent of such excess. The surtax upon a surtax net income of $6,000 is $80 and upon a surtax net income in excess of $6,000 and not in excess of $8,000 the rate is 5 per cent of such excess in addition to the $80, or a surtax of $180 upon a surtax net income of $8,000. The surtax on a surtax net income of $5,000,000 is $3,592,000, and upon a surtax net income in excess of $5,000,000, 75 per cent, the maximum rate, is applicable to such excess, in addition to the $3,591,000. Many taxpayers make the error of applying the maximum rate instead of the rate provided for in the bracket in which their surtax net income is included.

Following is an example of how to compute the tax on a net income of $8,500, all of which represents earned net income, the taxpayer being single and without dependents:

Net income	$8,500
Less personal exemption	1,000
Balance (surtax net income)	7,500
Earned income credit	750
Net income subject to normal tax	6,650
Surtax at 4 per cent on amount of surtax net income in excess of $4,000 but not over $8,000, 4 per cent on 2,000	80
Surtax at 5 per cent on amount of surtax net income in excess of $6,000 but not over $8,000, 5 per cent on $1,500	75
Total surtax	155
Normal tax, 4 per cent on $6,650	266
Total normal tax and surtax	421

Taxpayers are advised to read carefully the instructions accompanying Form 1040 relations to the earned income credit and surtax, as well as all other instructions thereon, before preparing their returns.

CONTRACTS AWARDED FOR CITY SUPPLIES

Material To Be Used in Street Improvement Work.

Three contracts for part of the materials to be used by the city on street improvement projects were awarded yesterday afternoon by City Safety-Service Director Clyde C. Caldwell.

J. M. Hamilton & Sons of Marion were awarded two contracts, one for approximately 5,000 tons of unquarried rip rap stone on a low bid of 10 cents a ton and another for approximately 6,000 tons of crushed rip rap stone on a low bid of 32 cents a ton. The Ohio Road Improvement Co. of Columbus was awarded a contract for approximately 200 tons of bituminous mix on a bid of $4.50, the only bid submitted.

The city rejected bids submitted by five local firms for cement and sewer tile and by six Marion firms for coal because, Mr. Caldwell said, all the bids were virtually identical. Bids of $2.40 a barrel for Portland cement and $3.80 a barrel for Hi-Early strength cement were received from Baldauf & Schlientz, Inc., E. F. Patton & Sons, Millard Hunt Co., Marion Builders Supply Co. and the Ralston Coal & Supply Co. while these five firms and the Marion Lumber Co. submitted the following bids for coal: egg size "analysis A," half-ton lots, $2.90, and lots of one ton or more, $5.75 a ton; lump size "analysis A," half-ton lots, $3 and lots of one ton or more, $6; egg size "analysis B," half-ton lots, $3 and lots of one ton or more, $6; lump size "analysis B," half-ton lots, $3.15 and lots of one ton or more, $6.25 per ton. Specifications for "analysis A" coal were 13,000 B.T.U.'s and for "analysis B," 14,300 B.T.U.'s.

Mr. Caldwell said the city probably will purchase coal, cement and sewer tile on the open market as it is needed since the city would realize no savings by letting contracts. The bids submitted were identical to the prices paid by the city during the last six months of 1939, he said.

The only competition in bidding was for rip rap stone which the city purchases for use on WPA street projects. In addition to the low bid of 10 cents made by the J. M. Hamilton & Sons for unquarried stone, the National Lime & Stone Co. submitted a bid of 25 cents a ton and the Marion Stone Co. offered the stone for 15 cents a ton. Only two bids were received for crushed rip rap stone, the Hamilton concern submitting the low bid of 32 cents a ton and the Marion Stone Co. offering it for 55 cents.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 6—A high school girl's notes forced temporary suspension of public school lectures on sex-education here. After reading notes taken on one lecture, the student's mother complained to school officials. A physician and a woman social worker have given the lectures.

Charter Night Banquet Celebrates First Anniversary of Lions Club

Members of the Marion Lions club observed the first anniversary of its organization at a "charter night" banquet at Hotel Harding last night, attended by nearly 100 Lions, Lionesses and guests.

A challenge for service clubs and individuals to defend American liberties and the American system was sounded by Horace S. Kerr of Columbus, past international director of Lions clubs, who gave the principal talk.

Speaking on "An Inventory," Mr. Kerr said conditions in general are no worse today than at any other time in our history.

Among the nation's characteristics which he listed as "assets" were United States' benevolence toward "underdog" nations, such as China, and political freedom which enables Americans to enjoy freedom of speech and press. Under the heading of "liabilities" he listed selfishness which prompts Americans to trade with aggressor nations such as Japan.

His Foreign Isms

He declared he would list subversive and un-American influences such as Communism high among the nation's liabilities because they were aimed to destroy the country's greatest asset, liberty.

"So far as I am concerned," he declared, "there is only one 'ism' we have room for in this country and that is Americanism."

Talks were given by Mayor Russell C. Snare who spoke on "Your City and Your Service Club," and G. A. Hall, club historian, who traced the history of the Lions club during its first year. The speakers were introduced by Edward J. Ruzzo, president of the club.

A Lions club key was presented by James Lytle to W. W. Andrews in recognition of Mr. Andrews having sponsored two new members of the club. William R. Reichenstein, chairman of the attendance committee, presented gifts for perfect attendance during the year to Robert Bush, Robert Cunningham, Vance Harden, Thayer Martin, Richard E. Parish, Joe Roby, Mr. Ruzzo and Howard Somer. Mr. Rob yiatroduced members of the club. Group singing was led by Clyde Faust, club song leader. Mr. Harden spoke the invocation.

Dance Follows Banquet

Title Sewed up, County Cagers to Jockey for Final Positions Frida

Boys' Teams To Scrap for Favored Spots in Coming Tournament.

By CHARLES HOSTETLER
Marion Star Sports Editor

WITH 1940 championships tucked away securely by Claridon in the boys' division and by Kirkpatrick in the girls' section, Friday night's season-ending county league basketball games will be little more than a ceremony.

Every member of the circuit will be active but the outcome of their duels will have no bearing on a pennant chase that reached the climax last week. Boys' entries will be gunning for top berths, in order to land among the quartet which receive seeded positions in the coming tournament.

Feminine clubs will have even less at stake since they do not engage in tourney competition. Their games this week, not only ring down the curtain on 1940 competition but are the final interscholastic girls' games. A state athletic association ruling banishes girls' court games after the close of the current schedule.

Claridon at Pleasant

Interest will be focused on Pleasant, where last year's crown-wearers play host to the 1940 titleholders, Claridon. Earlier in the schedule the game appeared as the one which might decide the pennant, but since then events have transpired to give Claridon an insurmountable two-game advantage. Win or lose, they still possess the 1940 crown.

Caledonia, LaRue, Prospect and Waldo have an opportunity to gain one of the coveted top four spots. Other than efforts to gain the right to seeded position in the tourney, this week's games are nothing more than a tune-up for the event. Drawings will be held Feb. 12, with initial rounds being played, Feb. 15.

The week's card takes Kirkpatrick to Martel, Morral to Agosta, Green Camp to Prospect, Caledonia to LaRue and Meeker to Waldo.

Have Perfect Slates

Unbeaten Claridon boys' and the perfect record Kirkpatrick feminine club need only to get by Friday night's obstacles to round out the schedule with clean slates. Kirkpatrick has the better chance of accomplishing the feat since its foe, Martel, has failed to win any of eight starts.

All things would indicate that present scoring leaders will hold their own in final duels to keep a clear claim to season honors. Bobby Sims, fast-stepping Claridon dribbler, paces the pointmakers with 15. He's registered 65 fielders and 25 fouls to lend his nearest rival, Porter of Agosta, by 15 tallies.

Caledonia moved to the front as the county's best defensive club, holding opponents to 202 points for a 20.2 average per game. Claridon still heads the list on offense, registering 399 points for a 39.9 average.

A Few Figures

Team and individual scoring statistics for the boys' division follows:

Scoring: Sims of Claridon, 155; Porter of Agosta, 140; N. Weston of Green Camp, 116; Branch of Morral and DeBolt of Pleasant, 89; Glenn Dunkin of LaRue, 88; Cowgill of Pleasant, 87; Messenger of Morral, 79; Hart of Kirkpatrick, 77.

Team Scoring: Claridon, 399 for 39.9; Pleasant, 380 for 38; LaRue, 286 for 31.8; Green Camp, 318 for 31.8; Agosta, 270 for 27.

Team defense: Caledonia, 202 for 20.2; Claridon, 222 for 22.2; Pleasant, 229 for 22.9; Prospect, 207 for 23; LaRue, 208 for 23.1.

14 OF OHIO'S TEAMS REMAIN UNBEATEN

High School Field Narrowed Down for Finish.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 6—Only 14 of the 1,146 Ohio high school teams playing basketball this season retained spotless records today.

One Class "A" quintet and four in Class "B" hit the loss column for the first time during the past week as the teams entered the home stretch in a drive which many hope will carry them into the state tournament here March 14-16.

Teams with unblemished records and their number of wins are:

Class A — Middletown, Mount Vernon and New Philadelphia, 13; Canton McKinley and Cincinnati Woodward 12; Grandview, 10.

Class B—Beech City and Smithfield 17; Parkman and Amherst 15; North Canton and Apple Cree 14; Wyoming 11; Canton St. John 10.

Among these leaders, only New Philadelphia and North Canton got into the state tourney last year. New Philly was eliminated in the first round, but North Canton went on to win the Class B championship.

The undefeated squads were given the edge as they prepared for district tournaments, but other strong contenders included:

Class A—Akron Buchtel, Fremont Ross, Kenton, Ashtabula, Portsmouth, East Liverpool; Defiance, Youngstown East, Coshocton, Toledo Woodward, Ironton, Marion Harding, Lima South and Bellevue.

Class B — Upper Arlington, Lynchburg, New Carlisle, Hoytville, East Conneaut, Columbiana, Mt. Gilead, Rittman, Doylestown, Gambier, Middle Point, Union, Willshire, Fort Recovery, Cridersville, Forest, Fairfield, Johnston, Bellville, Wharton and Harpster.

Tribe's Trainer Also Brain Doc

Take it from Max (Lefty) Weisman, above, a big league baseball trainer must work on players' brain cells as well as their muscles.

"You must be a real psychologist," declares the loquacious one-time Boston newsboy, starting his 10th year as the first aid man for the Cleveland Indians. You have to know when to kid and when not to.

"You can't kid the old hands like Mel Harder and Willis Hudlin. But a young college guy is different. You cheer him up in a way he doesn't think you are giving him any money," Lefty says.

Lefty has survived one change in ownership and five in management by sticking to his rule against playing favorites. He is impressed by the fact there are thousands of good trainers by only 500 major league players in the whole world.

Incidentally, he thinks the Tribe's chances for a pennant this year are "very good."

OHIO TOPS MEXICO; TOLEDO GETS WIN

By The Associated Press

Ohio tossed a small pebble—basketball size—in the path of international good will last night with the thorough drubbing of Mexico City's Y. M. C. A. cage team by the Ohio State Buckeyes.

The Columbus quintet collected a 56 to 33 victory in half of the state's meager basketball offering. The other contest saw the Toledo Rockets make it two in a row over John Carroll of Cleveland with a 44 to 27 win.

The Buckeyes scored almost at will as they handed the Mexican team its 11th defeat of 18 games played on a 38-contest goodwill tour. To the invaders went individual honors, nevertheless, Luis Labastiga, substitute forward, counting 13 points in the second period.

Carroll succeeded in bottling up the Rockets' ace scorer, Bob Gerber, holding him to six points.

TERRY WON'T PICK GIANTS FOR FLAG

Says His Boys Look Better Than Last Year.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Feb. 6—The Giants are shot full of problems and "can't honestly be picked for the pennant" in the National league, said Manager Bill Terry today, but if they fit together this season, they will be right in the middle of the scramble.

The Memphis farmer and oil tycoon, so fat he was wearing a sweater "because my vest got too tight," isn't kidding himself this year like he did last spring when he said his Giants looked like the best he ever had handled.

"I don't know where we'll finish," he drawled, "but I figure we'll be better than last year. The Cardinals are going to be tougher than the Reds. After that, it's anybody's horse race, and I think our pitching and our infield both will be better."

CHICAGO, Feb. 6—Luke Appling, one of baseball's "old guard holdouts, has jumped the reservation—to the pleased amazement of the Chicago White Sox. The veteran White Sox shortstop, who during nine years with the club had given officials many a moment of anxiety over annual contracts, surprised Vice President Harry Grabiner no end yesterday by sending in his signed 1940 document.

LOUIS AND GODOY PUTTING ON POLISH

NEW YORK, Feb. 6 — Champion Joe Louis and challenger Arturo Godoy of Chile went today into the final stages of their preparations for the 15-round heavyweight championship battle here Friday.

Louis was to box six rounds with sparring mates today and another six Wednesday. Godoy was to wind up his hard work today and exercise only lightly until the fight.

WANTS HENRY TO FIGHT

Is Apostoli Washed Up?

Fred's Future After Series of Losses Is Big Question Mark for Experts.

FRED APOSTOLI

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Feb. 6 — Fred Apostoli packed his bags today and made ready to pull out of town, leaving behind the wreckage of his fistic career and the biggest question mark in the fight game since Dave Barry counted over Gene Tunney in double talk one September evening in Chicago.

Wherever the boys in the fight mob parked their hats, there were a million-and-one guesses as to what happened to make clean-living Freddy nose-dive, almost overnight, from one of the really fine fighters in ring history to what seems now a "washed-up" warrior ever since his second fight with Billy Conn a year ago. There were all these guesses—but not one reasonable explanation.

After skyrocketing to a world's championship with such "class" that many labelled him the best boxer, pound for pound, in the game, he suddenly, and for no apparent reason, didn't click any more, although he took no really brutal beatings until lately.

It all started, oddly enough, with two of the greatest fights ever seen in Madison Square Garden, between Fred and Conn early in 1939. Both bouts were bristling and loaded with action. The second was as close as the type to this paper, and Conn drew the nod of the officials.

After that, Fred met several opponents whom he could have put in to his hip pocket at his peak, yet he had trouble winning over them. He struck a "low" against Glen Lee in Pittsburgh, and the result was the "wise men" bet he would be knocked out by Ceferino Garcia to lose his middleweight crown. He was.

Apostoli, on leaving the hospital yesterday recovered from grippe, demanded another chance in about six months. He plans to leave New York in a few days for Hot Springs, Ark., to rest before returning to his home in San Francisco in April.

Archery Queen Eyes Big Game

Mrs. Belvia "Billie" Carter, above, of Seattle just can't understand why people use guns for shooting. The attractive blond Diana is unusual, however. With her bow and arrow she has never lost a tournament and at 32 is national women's archery champion.

So far she has stuck pretty well to target shooting, but she has a yen to go big game hunting and says she'll go on a bear hunt soon. She's been at the sport for only four and a half years. After six months of practice she entered the Washington tournament and won.

She is only five feet, two inches tall, and her bow is five feet, 10 inches. She holds an indoor record to defy most male marksmen—784 out of a possible 810 points at 30 yards.

When Billie isn't shooting, she's waiting table in a Seattle hotel.

Fans Treated To Battle Royal As Williams Wins on Angelo's Fo

Chicago's Al Williams won by disqualification in his featured slugfest with Martino Angelo of Buffalo, N. Y., on last night's fight card at the Marion Steam Shovel arena—the bout winding up in a battle royal with the slug artists, their handlers and Referee Tom Temple trading blows in round-robin fashion after the match was officially ended.

Williams was declared the winner midway in the fifth round after he was the target of a foul when Angelo hoisted a knee into the ex-sailor's midriff. Until then the scrap was fairly even, though the one-time U. S. Navy champion kept his lunging foe at bay by peppering away with rights to the jaw as he held him at arm's length with left jabs.

How It Started

In that fatal fifth, Williams went down by the foul route and Angelo jumped on his foe to pound away with rights and lefts as they rolled over the canvas. Referee Temple's efforts to part them were futile and Billy Rayburn, the Chicagoan's second, leaped into the ring to lend his aid.

They got the battlers apart long enough to raise Williams' hand in victory and then the fireworks exploded. Jack Hagen, stooge for Angelo, joined his partner in attempting to carry out mayhem.

Little did it matter that H and Rayburn were in c clothes. They tossed punche each other and stood side-by with the men they seconde compete in an unscheduled match.

Heartiest punch of the ev appeared to be the bare-kn jolt Rayburn landed on Ha jaw. The blow sent the Lou an reeling and played no little in assisting Referee Temple clear the ring. The bout, s Angelo's low blows, found Chicagoan setting the pace. sent Angelo down for the count in the second and easily the leader in four of five rounds.

He won the final and de fall in, 14 minutes, stoppi series of chin punts to press ner's shoulders to the resin.

The Rayburn-Hagen pr nary ended in a draw at th minute bell, but Hagen cont the duel, much to his sorro Hagen slugged Rayburn the bell and then backed of conceded the match when th lantan retaliated.

CONN SURE HE'S MAN TO WHIP JOE LOUIS

Young Light Heavy Champion Feels Urge of Destiny.

By The Associated Press

MIAMI BEACH, Feb. 6—Trying to talk Billy Conn out of the idea that he is destined to whip Joe Louis and return the heavyweight title to the white race is an absolute waste of time. The kid from Pittsburgh has made up his Irish mind.

"He'll still be around when I'm ready for him," he insisted. "Sure, he's big. But he doesn't like to be hit, and just wait until I lay this right on his jaw."

The 175-pound champ is working in out in a sweaty gymnasium on the ocean front, starting to get ready for his title fight with Gus Lesnevich here on Feb. 28. Having whipped Lesnevich once recently in New York, Bill didn't seem much interested in that phase of his future.

How did Billy think he would bear up under a consignment of Louis rights and lefts?

"He would have a lot of trouble hitting me," said Conn, soberly. "That's part of this game—not to get hit. But I can take a punch. Fred Apostoli hit me a few, didn't he?"

Billy is starting training, as usual, up above 180 pounds. He'll shed it though, in the coming weeks, and enter the ring against Lesnevich at probably no more than 173.

MARKET FINDS SOME SUPPORT

Trading Sentiment Given Mild Backing by Interest in Some Issues.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Feb. 6—A little selective support crept into the stock market today and served as a mild prop for sentiment.

At that, real buying vigor still was lacking, with dealings even smaller than in yesterday's dragging session. Steels were among the best.

Bonds improved in spots. Foreign markets were trendless as were domestic commodities.

Favored were stocks of U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Chrysler, General Motors, Du Pont, Douglas Aircraft, Eastern Air Lines, N. Y. Central, Pennsylvania and American Can.

Eastman Kodak backed away, along with U. S. Gypsum.

Resistant in the curb were Aluminum of America, International Petroleum, Lake Shore and American Cyanamid "B."

The feeling that major steel issues had taken somewhat of a more severe beating than they deserved, even with the substantial downturn in new orders and production, was a bolstering influence for this group.

With the present week's dip in steel mill operations to 71.7 per cent of capacity, observers expressed the opinion an additional retreat over the next few weeks to between 60 and 65 per cent was a distinct probability. A leveling off was seen early in March with a renewal of the forward swing believed likely by the end of the first quarter.

WHEAT OPENS EASY, THEN MOVES HIGHER

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Feb. 6—Wheat trade today followed the pattern of yesterday's session, easing early and then turning upward, the market scoring gains of as much as 1½ cents in closing minutes.

Buying and shortcovering was prompted by southwest reports of flour business and a better tone in the stock market. May contracts reached 98⅝, up 1⅜ from the previous close, and July 90⅜, up 1½ cents.

Wheat closed 1⅛-1¼ higher, May 98½-⅝, July 95⅝-96; corn ⅜-½ up, May 56⅝, July 56⅞-57⅛; oats ⅜-½ higher.

Boston Wool

By The Associated Press

BOSTON, Feb. 6—The wool market in Boston was extremely dull today. Most users were making no effort to buy spot wools either of domestic or of foreign origin. The lack of demand has caused an easing in asking prices on spot foreign wools which were quoted in Boston relatively lower than in foreign markets. Quotations were entirely nominal on domestic wools because of the lack of trading.

YOUR HEALTH

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D

Lenten Diets

LENT begins tomorrow. The church orders it as a season of fasting. Let those weak-kneed ones who can't stick to a reducing diet solicit the church's aid and set aside Lent for our 40-day reducing diet.

I will print a diet every day in this column all through Lent. It is dated the day before so the housemother can order in time. It is not drastic—the time is long enough to make it scientifically feasible. It is balanced as to vitamins and minerals. The first effects should be felt in 10 days. Any one should lose 10 to 15 pounds by Easter.

First Day's Diet

Here is the Lenten reducing diet for Ash Wednesday:

Breakfast—One orange, one-half slice toast, one-half teaspoonful butter, one soft-boiled egg, one cup coffee with one piece of sugar, one teaspoonful of cream.

Lunch — Two grilled frankfurters or one lamb chop; one helping sauerkraut, string beans or cole slaw; two saltines, black coffee or tea with lemon.

Dinner—Glass of tomato juice, vegetable dinner—any one or two of beets, cauliflower, cabbage, broccoli, carrots, turnips, stewed tomatoes; one slice of toast, one-half teaspoonful butter, stewed apricots or pears (strain off juice); one glass of milk (optional), black coffee or tea with lemon.

Day's Calories: 1100

QUESTION AND ANSWERS

H. H.: "Will you please answer in your column and tell me if there is anything that will dissolve kidney stones?"

Answer: Nothing.

D.L.M.: "Will enlarged tonsils affect the sight and hearing, and is there any danger of their becoming cancerated?"

Answer—Sight, no effect; hearing, possibly. Tonsils are not subject to cancer.

J.H.: "What is the cause and treatment of cold and sweating feet?"

Answer—The cause is some disturbance of the automatic nervous system. Treatment is by soaking the feet morning and night in a solution of formillin (teaspoonful to a quart of water), and by contrast foot baths—alternating dipping the feet in a bucket of very hot and then very cold water for 20 minutes morning and night.
